

Information session for Statistics and Biostatistics graduate programs

Come join us for an informal information session for students interested in graduate programs in statistics and biostatistics. Faculty and students from programs including UMass/Amherst, the University of Connecticut, and Yale University will be on hand to speak briefly about their programs then answer questions individually.

Friday, October 6

12:00 pm

Merrill 300A

A light lunch will be served

Any questions, please ask Prof Horton
(nhorton@amherst.edu).